RWBY Xenoverse

Disclaimer- I do not own RWBY, Dragon Ball Z, GT, Super, or Xenoverse. On with the story!

Prologue

"Trunks, something is happening in this scroll!" Supreme Kai of Time said as she watched the scroll on the table glow with purple energy.

"What do you mean?" Trunks asked as he made his way over to the table.

"The history in the scroll is changing." Kai of Time said as she eyed the scroll.

"That's impossible. Demigra was defeated. Goku said if himself that he couldn't sense Demigra's evil presence." Trunks stood by the Kai of Time as thy watched the scroll.

"It may not be Demigra himself."

"What do you mean?"

"It could just be his left over magic." Kai of Time said.

"Well whatever it is, I'm putting a stop to it before it does any damage." Trunks reached for the scroll, but was stopped by Kai of Time.

"Wait Trunks. Let's see what's happening before we act." Kai of Time said, earning a confused look from Trunks. "Just trust me OK? I don't know what it is, but something is telling me that we should wait and see what's happening." Trunks didn't understand why she wanted to see what Demigra's magic was doing to the scroll, but he trusted her. He stood beside her and watched as sh opened to scroll.

"Wait, isn't this..." Kai of Time started.

"Th...that's Planet Vegeta before it's destruction. What's going on?" Trunks continued to watch the scroll.

They saw two Saiyans carrying two baby Saiyans to open pods. One of the babies had spiky white hair with a lock over his left eye and the other had long black hair that reached his mid back. They could hear the two adults talking and were able to catch the babies names. After putting the babies into the pods, they started typing on the key pads, but stopped and looked up. They could see a lone warrior fighting against an army of henchmen. The two Saiyans quickly launched the two pods before turning around and flying up to help their comrade. Suddenly, a giant Ki ball filled the sky and the laughs of an evil tyrant could be heard. The attack was launched at the planet, killing everyone in its path before it finally collided with Vegeta. The planet rumbled and shook before it finally blew into pieces, the only visible thing being a ship that belonged to the laughing tyrant. The two pods flew through the emptiness of space, heading to whatever destination the pods were programed to go.

"It looks like the pods escaped the blast, but where are they going?" Trunks asked more to himself than anyone.

"What were their names again?" Kai of Time asked.

"Lars and Ryu if I remember correctly." Trunks said before looking back at the scroll. "Wait, what's that?"

Kai of Time looked down at the scroll to see what Trunks was talking about. She saw, in the scroll, two black and red worm holes open up and swallow the two pods in before completely closing, leaving no signs the pods were ever there.

"What? Where'd they go?" Trunks' eyes widened when he saw what happened. Suddenly the scrolls around them began changing, glowing with the same purple energy.

"Oh no, the scrolls!" Supreme Kai of Time exclaimed as she ran over to one side of the room while Trunks went to the other.

"What's going on?" Trunks asked as he frantically looked at the scrolls before him, watching at history changed right before his eyes.

"History... It's changing so quickly and some of the scrolls no longer contain our history anymore." Kai of Time said as she watched one scroll with the image of earth change to the image of a similar planet with a shattered moon and dark creatures.

"What do you mean?" Trunks asked.

"This is the history of a completely different universe." She said in disbelief.

Trunks sat on his knees and watched from scroll to scroll as heros and villains were swallowed by the same wormholes. Even entire worlds were swallowed up and sent away. He saw Namekians, Frieza's race, Humans from Earth, aliens, Majins, and even some Saiyans from Planet Vegeta, before it's destruction, all get swallowed up. None that Goku and the rest fought, but it still greatly worried him.

"If it's not our universe, then whose is it?" Trunks silently asked.

Well how was it? Please give me your feedback about what you think. Until next time. See ya!

2. Heroes Introduction

Hello everyone and welcome to Chapter 1 of RWBY Xenoverse! I am happy to see the Prologue got so many views so I'm actually excited to see how this will do. Something I forgot to mention in the Prologue is that I am new to this so if anyone has any advise for me then please PM me. Anyways, on with the story!

Chapter 1

"Is that all you've got Ryu?" A tall boy panted out, his chest heaving from exhaustion. He was currently in a fight and could feel he had at least 3 broken ribs and perhaps a dislocated shoulder. Despite his injuries, however, he didn't show any pain and instead had a smile on his face, enjoying the battle he was currently in.

He stood at 6'1, had teal colored eyes, that currently had blood running down his right eye, and had short, spiky white hair with a single lock over his left eye as well as an X shaped scar on his left cheek. He was wearing a shredded black and red GI with the only intact parts being the red inner shirt, black wristbands, black pants with the right leg ripped, a tattered red belt, and black boots with a red line down the middle.

"You of all people should know that this is no where near what I can do Lars." Ryu said, exhausted from the intense fight he was currently in with his brother. He could feel that his arm was broken as well as his collar bone, but like Lars, he wouldn't show any pain and instead smiled back at Lars.

Ryu was 6'3 with black eys and long black hair that reached his mid back. He wore a GI similar to Lars' except his was white and blue. The right half of his inner shirt was all that was left of the upper body. The right pants leg was completely gone and his belt was torn to shreds.

Lars closed his eyes and took a deep breath before slowly exhaling. His eys suddenly snapped open and a smile formed on his face as he looked at his brother. Without warning, Lars began to raise his Ki.

Ryu watched as a red aura surrounded his younger brother before smiling himself. He then began to raise his own Ki, a blue aura surrounding his body.

The ground around them began to shake as trees started uprooting and chunks of earth started levitating. Without warning the two brothers pushed off the ground, leaving behind craters, and flew at each other with their fists raised. To the untrained eye, the two seemed to vanish and appear in front of each other. They lashed out with their fists and collided with each other, the force sending the trees around them blowing back. The impact even shook the buildings and streets in the Kingdom of Vale. To a new comer it would feel like the world was ending, but the citizens of Vale knew better.

"Looks like those two are at it again." A woman said.

"Seriously, how strong are these two?" One shopkeeper asked as he tried to keep his merchandise from falling off the shelves.

"I don't know whether to feel safe with these two around or fear for my life." Another man said as the quakes subsided.

Back at the impact point, two bodies laid in the center of a huge crater. The area around them was completely devoid of trees, making the area look like a barren wasteland.

"Hehe. Gonna be feeling that one in the morning." Lars chuckled as he struggled to get up.

"Yeah. I think my other arms broken." Ryu said, grimacing in pain.

The two brothers laid in the crater and before long four energy signatures could be felt coming their way. It didn't take long for the signatures to arrive at their destination. Lars turned his head to see who it was that he was sensing and saw a blue haired woman dressed in military battle armor. She was backed by three others who were wearing different colored battle armor as well as devices on their left eye.

"Oh. Hey Aunt Audrey. What brings you here?" Lars asked with a smile.

"Well you could say that two of you are what brings me here." Audrey said with a smile. "Can you move at all?"

"Probably not."

"Where is your Rejuvinators?" Audrey asked, looking around.

"Oh their." He stopped and looked around the area that he and his brother destroyed. "Somewhere."

Audrey sighed before pulling out two silver objects. She injected a green fluid into Lars' arm before walking over to Ryu and doing the same. Soon enough, the two were up an moving, completely devoid of injury.

"Hehe thanks Aunt Audrey." Lars said with a smile as he stretched his arms.

"So what brings you here 'Captain'. I doubt you came here to check on us." Ryu said with slight annoyance in his voice which caused his Aunt to sigh.

"Your right. I actually came here to get you two." She began.

"But why?" Lars asked curiously.

"Someone important wants to meet with you both." She continued.

"Who?"

"That's a secret." Audrey said, sticking her tongue out at Lars which he returned.

"Well it's going to have to wait for another day. In case you've forgotten, it's Lars' seventeenth birthday." Ryu said.

"Of course I haven't forgotten. Which is exactly why I brought this." Their Aunt turned to one of the soldiers who was carrying an object wrapped in a red cloth and tied by a golden rope. He gave her the object and stepped back with his hands behind his back.

Audrey walked up to Lars with a smile. She stopped in front of him and handed him the object.

"This was your Father's when he and your Mother were Hunters. He originally wanted to give this to Ryu since he was the oldest, but he showed no interest in using a sword like you did. Which is why he wanted you to have it." She handed the object over to Lars who quickly unwrapped it to discover a sheathed sword.

The sheath was black with a red chest strap. He gripped the handle, which was red with a silver hand guard and pummel, and unsheathed the sword. The blade was a bright silver color and double edged with a sharp, deadly tip. Lars swung the sword a few times to test its weight and balance before sheathing it. He strapped it to his back and gave his Aunt a big hug.

"Thanks Aunt Audrey. It's awesome." He said happily.

"Don't thank me. It was a gift from your father. Now come on, we still gotta meet with the person I mentioned." She stopped when she saw the condition their clothes were in. "Maybe you two should change first though.

After the two brothers changed into fresh GIs, they all flew to Vale to meet the mystery person.

Well how was Chapter 1? Hope you guys enjoyed it. Like I said I'm new to this whole thing, but give me your thoughts on this chapter. Until next time, see ya!

3. Mystery Man Revealed

Hello everyone and welcome to the second chapter of the story. Before we get started I'd like to thank Lil'Manuel.G for supporting the story. There will be announcement at the end of this chapter so please read it. On with the story!

Chapter 2

"Where the hell is this guy?" Ryu paced back and forth in the small room they were in. He was becoming increasingly annoyed due to having to wait an hour for someone he didn't even know. Who the hell was this guy and why was he making them wait this long?

"Just be patient Ryu, it's only been an hour. I'm sure this person will arrive any minute." As Lars said this, the door opened up and in walked a blone haired woman. She wore a white blouse, black skirt with black glasses and a black cape that was purple underneath. In one hand she held a wand and in the other, a Scroll.

"Hello Lars and Ryu. My name is Glynda Goodwitch." She spoke with a voice that held authority and a professional look on her face.

"Are you the one who wanted to meet with us?" Ryu asked.

"No, he will be along shortly." She sat down in a chair across the table from Lars. "I simply wish to speak to the two of you."

"Is there a reason why? We came here to speak to this 'mystery man'. Not every person who walks through the door." Ryu said, causing Glynda's eyebrow to twitch.

"To speak to him you have to speak to me first."

"No. We didn't ask to come here, we were invited. So either we speak to this man now or we leave." Ryu folded his arms over his chest. Lars looked between his brother and Glynda. He knew his brother was stubborn, but this woman looked equally as stubborn. Besides, he also wanted to meet this 'mystery man'.

"Why don't we just see what she wants to talk to us about Ryu. There's no harm in that." Lars spoke up, earning the attention of the two.

"Actually, it's questions." Glynda replied.

"Ok, well we can answer some questions. What about it Ryu?" Lars looked at his older brother. Ryu closed his eyes and sighed before taking a seat beside Lars.

"Fine, but this better not be a waste of my time."

Glynda opened her Scroll and started typing something in. She then looked up at Ryu and began her the questions.

"Since your the eldest, I'd like to start with you. Name?"

"Ryu Sarada."

"Age?"

"18."

"Birthday?"

"March 15, 62 AGW."

"Any hobbies?"

"Is sparring a hobby?" Ryu asked. His question was answered when Glynda typed it into her Scroll.

"You are a Faunus correct?"

"Did the tail give it away?" He asked sarcastically, earning an irritated look from Glynda. "And before you ask another obvious question, Monkey." Glynda gritted her teeth, but typed it in anyway.

"Any parents?" When Glynda asked that question, the room became a bit gloomy and silent. After a few seconds, Ryu finally spoke.

"No." He said quietly.

"I'm sorry." Glynda replied sympathetically. She typed into her Scroll for a few seconds before turning to Lars.

"Your turn." She said, Lars nodding his head.

"Name?"

"Lars Sarada."

"Age?"

"17."

"Birthday?"

"September 25, 63 AGW."

"Happy birthday." Glynda said with a smile.

"Thanks." Lars replied with a toothy grin.

"Do you have any hobbies?"

"And here we go." Ryu mumbled.

"Hmmm. Training to become stronger." Lars said. As Glynda was about to type it in, Ryu spoke up.

"And?"

"Oh yea and eating tons of food. Pancakes are my favorite though and if you eat to many you'll feel like you're gonna blow up." Glynda gave Lars a look.

"How many times do I have to tell you that eating food isn't a hobby!" Ryu comically yelled at his brother.

"Hey it's one of my favorite things to do so it's a hobby!" Lars comically yelled back.

"No it's not!" Glynda sweat dropped as she watched the two brothers argue. After they had stopped arguing, Glynda continued her questions.

"Are you a Faunus?" She asked. This time Ryu gave no smart comment.

"Yea, but..." Lars trailed off.

"But?" Glynda asked with a raised eyebrow.

"His tail was cut off by a Grimm attack." Ryu spoke when Lars didn't answer. Glynda's eyes widened in shock.

'I'm so sorry. Is that how you got the scar too?" She asked. Lars nodded his head and Glynda gave a sympathetic look to the young boy.

Glynda went back to typing in her Scroll and after a few minutes of silence, the door to the room opened and in walked a silver haired man. He had rectangular glasses, a green scarf, and wore a black suit. In one hand he had a cane and in the other he had a coffee mug that was expertly balancing a plate of pancakes. The moment Lars laid eyes on the plate, his mouth started watering.

"Lars and Ryu Sarada. You both have impressively high power levels for ones so young." He said, looking between the two brothers.

"And who are you?" Ryu folded his arms across his chest.

"I am Professor Ozpin, Headmaster of Beacon Academy, and I wish for the two of you to come to my school." He set the plate down in front of Lars who looked at it with sparkles in his eyes. "Sorry I couldn't bring a cake. I'm a terrible baker." Ozpin said with a smile. "Happy birthday."

Without saying a word, Lars dug into the plate of pancakes. Glynda stared at him while Ozpin simply smiled.

"So, you want us in your school. Why?" Ryu asked in an attempt to divert his attention away from his brother.

"Simple, I want you two to train the new students." Ozpin began

"Don't you have teachers for that?" Ryu asked.

"Yes, but you two have power levels unlike any I've ever felt before and I can sense that it'll only continue to grow."

"While I appreciate the praise, I know there's more to it than you wanting us to train your students." Ryu said causing Ozpin to give a slight smile.

"You'd be right Ryu." Ozpin pulled out his Scroll. "As you may or may not know the Grimm are becoming increasingly more powerful and intelligent. The older a Grimm gets, the more intelligent it becomes, but we are seeing power AND intelligence, that they are not suppose to possess, in Grimm as young as new borns. On top of this they are also increasing in numbers which has forced us to increase our numbers. We've started taking in younger students regardless of their scores." He passed Ryu his Scroll who started looking over it. The screen was filled with students of different age, genders, and race as well as their scores and abilities. Needless to say, Ryu was not impressed.

"How are the Grimm becoming this way?" Lars asked, pushing the empty plate away from him.

"We don't know." Glynda was the one who answered his question.

"So let me get this straight. The Grimm are starting to evolve and you have no idea how or why. Now because of this, you've recruited younger students, who more than likely don't even know how to fly yet, to fight an enemy who is only going to continue to become stronger?" Ryu asked.

"That's the gist of it yea." Ozpin said earning a nod from Ryu who passed his Scroll back to him. "The Grimm have always out numbered us and it looks like they will continue to do so. If they become any stronger and smarter than they are now, they will annihilate us. That is why I wish for the two of you to come to my school and train the students. And being around their age should help the process as well." Ozpin said as he put his Scroll back into his jacket pocket. The four sat in silence for a few moments before Lars looked over at Ryu, who looked back, then at Ozpin and Glynda.

"When do we start?" Lars asked with a grin.

Chapter 3

"Ahhh. That was nice." Lars said as he and Ryu left the restaurant, completely oblivious to the stunned looks they got from the employees due to the amount of food they consumed. Their table was stacked to the roof with plates, bowls, and other utensils.

"Well I'm glad you enjoyed yourself little brother." Ryu said with a smile.

They took to the air and began flying in the direction of their home; however, they had only been flying for a few moments when Lars felt something off in the distance. Two power levels and from what he could tell the owners were fighting each other. Ryu noticed his little brother looking off in the distance and decided to ask what he was sensing. Lars had always been more sensitive to energy sensing, able to sense even the smallest of energy signatures.

"What is it Lars?" Lars turned to his older brother.

"Two power levels in that direction." He pointed in the direction he felt them in. "The owners seem to be fighting."

The two stopped flying, allowing Ryu to seek out the two power levels his brother was talking about. Sure enough he felt the two a few miles away.

"Their in the Old District. No one's lived there for years so why are they fighting?" Ryu asked more to himself.

"Why don't we go find out? We have nothing else to do right?" Lars had a hopeful tone in his voice when he asked. Ryu thought for a moment before shrugging his shoulders.

"Why not. We have nothing better to do anyways." He changed his course to the location of the battle, Lars following right behind him.

(Break)

Two figures stood across from each other in the center of the Old District. One was female with long yellow hair and lilic colored eyes. She wore a tan vest over a yellow shirt with a symbol on the left resembling a burning heart and brown shorts under a belt that had a buckle, pouches, and a banner like object hanging behind her with the same symbol. Around her neck she wore an orange scarf, brown knee high boots, and black fingerless gloves under a pair of yellow mechanized gauntlets that were currently activated. This woman was named Yang Xiao Long, student of Beacon Academy and older sister of Ruby Rose.

Her opponent was a man that had black colored hair that was slicked back and green colored eyes with a scar down his right eye. He wore the standard outfit of the terrorist organization known as the White Fang, which consisted of a white and black outfit with a red wolf and claws symbol on the back. He didn't wear the grimm mask though.

"I'm quite surprised that you've lasted as long as you have. Why not come and join the White Fang? I can assure you that your power will not be wasted." That man gave an evil grin to Yang.

"Yea right. As if I'd join up with a group of monsters like you." Yang shot at him, causing the man's grin to widen.

"You call us monsters, but we are only doing what's best for our planet." The man said.

"By killing anyone who doesn't agree with you or your methods?" Yang tightened her hands into fists.

"Those known as Saiyans and Ice Jins are nothing but trouble. They will eventually try and take over our planet like they have others." The man's face contorted into one of anger. "I will not allow that to happen. The White Fang will eradicate all Saiyans and Ice Jins on our planet! Know that I gave you a chance to join us and live." The man suddenly flew at Yang and slammed his fist into her crossed arms, causing her to fly back.

Yang quickly regained her footing just in time to block a kick to the head and deliver a punch of her own to the man's midsection. The man flew through a few ruined buildings before stopping himself. She had infused her weapon with Ki so when she punched him he was also receiving a Ki burst attack. Yang appeared beside him and kicked, aiming for his head only for him to vanish away from her. She searched for his Ki and found it just in time to block a blast of orange energy.

The man used the smoke screen to his advantage, flying into the middle of it and coming out on Yang's left side. He delivered a hard kick to her chest which caused her to fly through a building before she stopped herself. Yang looked up in time to deflect another Ki blast and send one of her own at him which caused him to fly up, dodging her firey attack, with Yang following. The two then proceeded to fire Ki blasts at each other through the building as they flew up, ending the attacks by firing a stronger Ki blast when they reached the top. The two attacks collided, causing another smoke screen and the building to crumble with the two fighters appearing in the center of the smoke screen with their fists colliding before vanishing again. They reappeared on the ground with Yang blocking a kick before vanishing to the sky with the man blocking an elbow before vanishing again. Yang reappeared on top of a building with the man floating in the sky above her. He put on a small grin before speaking.

"As much fun as this has been, I'm afraid it's time I ended this." When he said this Yang simply smirked at him

"I don't see how. We're evenly matched with each other." This caused the man to grin even more. Without saying anything he raised his hand and snapped his fingers. Suddenly, two Ki attacks came flying at Yang from behind, courtesy of two other White Fang members.

"Damn!" She cursed knowing she didn't have enough time to dodge or block the oncoming attacks from the two members that she had completely forgotten about.

Yang closed her eyes and waited for the impacts when she suddenly felt two different power levels behind her. She turned her head and saw the two figures. They were both male with one having long black hair and the other one having spiky white hair. The black haired one had deflected one of the attacks into the sky while the white haired one sliced the other in half.

"You know, if you can't fight a battle without having to resort to cowardly tactics like this, then you have no right to call yourself a warrior." Ryu said with his arms crossed.

"I'm just glad we got here in time." Lars said as he sheathed his sword. He turned in her direction and gave her a smile. "You OK?"

It took a moment for Yang to realize what he had asked before shaking her head and nodding. "Yea I'm fine. Thanks."

"No problem. So why are you fighting the White Fang? Aside from obvious reasons." Ryu asked as he and Lars floated down to the rooftop she was on.

"I wasn't planning on getting into a fight, but they were attacking an innocent person. I wasn't going to stand by and do nothing." Yang replied.

"Fair enough. So who's the asshole up there?" Ryu nodded his head towards the man in the sky.

"That's Ryder. He's a lieutenant of the White Fang."

"Well don't you worry. We'll handle the rest so you sit back and rest up." Lars suggested, but Yang shook her head.

"No. Ryder is mine, but I'd appreciate it if you guys took out those other two White Fang." Yang motioned at the flying White Fang members.

"You got it. The names Lars by the way." Lars said with a smile.

"Ryu. Nice to meet you." Ryu nodded his head once at her

"Thanks for the help Lars and Ryu. My name's Yang. Maybe after this is over, you can come meet my friends back at Beacon."

"Wait, you go to Beacon?" Lars had a look of amazment on his face.

"Yep. Just entered as a first year." Yang gave him a thumbs up. Now that Ryu thought about it, he faintly remembered seeing her on Ozpin's Scroll. She was one of the few that impressed him.

"Well we can talk about that later. Right now we have a battle to fight. Let's go Lars." Ryu flew into the air to face off against the two White Fang.

"Oh right." Lars was right beside him. "So then, let's get this fight started."

Yang flew up behind them with her back to them as she faced Ryder. He grinned at her and for a moment she could've sworn his eyes flashed red, but she dismissed the thought and focused on the battle at hand. Without warning, the six fighters flew at there targets, initializing the three on three battle.

That's the end of Chapter 3. I didn't do this how I originally wanted to do it, but I actually like how it turned out and I hope you guys do as well. Sorry it took so long to get this chapter done to. With getting people's OCs listed and going to a birthday party, I kind got behind, but tomorrow I will be putting up the 4th chapter without any distractions. OCs are still being accepted so go ahead and send me your characters so they can make appearance in the story. Again a maximum of 4, I may change it depending on character count, and it would also help if there can be some villian OCs as well. Anyways hope you all enjoyed this chapter. Until next time. See ya!

6. Ryu's Transformation Part 1

Hello everyone and welcome to the 4th chapter of RWBY Xenoverse. Let's go!

Chapter 4

Ryu flew at the White Fang in front of him with his fist raised, swinging when he go into range. The White Fang member did his best to block the attack, but was unsuccessful and ended up flying back a little. When the man finally stopped himself he looked up at Ryu and spat a bit of blood from his mouth.

"Don't get cocky just because you landed a lucky shot on me kid." The White Fang fired a red Ki blast at him. When the attack hit, it caused a smoke screen to obscure the member's vision, but he smirked anyways believing he had won. "Heh that was easy."

"Who's the one being cocky here?" Ryu's voice caused the White Fang to grit his teeth. The smoke cleared to reveal Ryu without a scratch on him. "That attack was pretty pathetic. Why not try and show me something good." The White Fang cursed at him before powering up, a light red aura surrounding him in the process. Ryu smirked as the member continued to power up, not worried in the slightest.

"How's this? I'm at full power now." The White Fang smirked with confidence, ignoring the fact that Ryu didn't seem fazed at all about his power up.

"Oh you are are you? The White Fang must be slacking in their recruiting because your still as weak as you were before." Ryu had a bored look on his face which irritated his opponent to no end.

"That's enough out of you! No one mocks the White Fang and gets away with it!" The White Fang charged at Ryu and began throwing punches around. "I'll show you my full power and wipe you from existence." He continued throwing punches at Ryu, but he simply dodged around them like they were nothing. He eventually grew bored of this and grabbed the members fists mid punch which caused him to have a look of surprise.

"My turn." Ryu slammed his forehead into the members face before punching him three times in the stomach and ending it with a knee to the chin. The White Fang flew back, holding his chin as blood dripped from his mouth. Ryu sighed with his arms crossed. "I'm done. This 'fight' has grown boring to me and I don't feel the need for it to continue." The White Fang looked at him with an angrily.

"If you think your walking away from this fight your mistaken you brat!" The member spat at him with clenched teeth.

"Walk away? No I'm not walking away." Ryu smirked and closed his eyes for a moment before they snapped back open. "I'm ending this fight." Ryu began powering up, a blue aura surrounding him. The sheer power emanating from him made the White Fang shake with sudden fear. "Do you see now? You never stood a chance to begin with. I simply wanted you to feel you had a chance before I ended things."

The White Fang trembled at Ryu's power level. How could someone outside the four Academies be this strong? Who the hell was this guy? Was the other one just as strong? If so then his comrade didn't stand a chance.

"W...what are you going to do?" The White Fang floated back a little.

"Like I said. I'm ending this fight." Ryu leaned back on his right leg and brought his left one up in front of him. While doing this he brought his left hand to his right side, placing the back of his hand into his right hands palm, a blue orb appearing shortly after in the palm of his left hand.

"Galick..." The White Fang turned and started flying in the opposite direction with a terrified look on his face. "Gun!" Ryu yelled out as he pused his hands forward, a blue beam on energy shooting from him. The beam quickly caught up with the retreating White Fang, the member turning around to block it in vain. The blast incinerated the White Fang, leaving nothing behind.

(Break)

Lars dodged his opponents attacks with little effort, making the White Fang he was fighting irritated. He kicked at Lars, hitting nothing but air, then punched at him, getting the same results which caused him to grit his teeth.

"Sit still and fight damn you." He challenged, regretting his decision when Lars elbowed him in the face. He held his nose as blood poured from it only to have to block a kick to his chest.

"You wanted me to fight right? Well that's exactly what I'm doing so I hope your ready." With that said, Lars delivered a barrage of kicks and punches to the White Fang who was struggling to keep up. He tried blocking a kick to the head, but failed and ended up crashing through a ruined building that crumbled soon after. Lars flew down to where the member had crashed, putting up his arms when a Ki attack came out from the smoke.

The White Fang appeared beside Lars and punched at him only for Lars to vanish behind him to deliver a hard knee to the back of the member's head which caused him to stumble forward. He turned around and got elbowed in the face then kicked away again, but this time he was able to stop himself.

"Damn it!" He cursed as he looked at Lars. "I'm part of the White Fang! How can you be so powerful?" He demanded, clenching his fists in anger.

"Just give up. There's no reason for this fight to continue and I don't want to kill you." The White Fang gave him a surprised look.

"Give up? I am a member of the White Fang and will not be treated like a weakling!" With that the White Fang flew higher into the air and held out his hand. "Let's see you survive this!" A yellow ball of energy formed in his hand and with each passing second it grew bigger.

"Fine, but I gave you a chance." Lars placed his hands in front of him before cupping them behind him on his right. "Kame." A red orb formed in the middle of Lars' cupped hands. "Hame." The red orb grew bigger and brighter as Lars concentrated more Ki into his attack. The White Fang's attack was now twice as big as it was before and he was now holding it above his head.

"Take this!" He yelled as he threw the attack at Lars.

"Haaaaa!" Lars threw his hands forward, a red beam of energy firing forward and into the White Fang's attack. The collision of the two attacks caued a shocwave strong enough to destroy a few of the buildings around them and it wasn't long until Lars' attack began to overpower the White Fang's.

"Wh...what?" The member was surprised to see his strongest attack overpowered so easily. He stuck his hands out in an attempt to stop the attack, but it was no use. Lars' Kamehameha engulfed the White Fang, completely disintegrating him. When the smoke cleared, he was no where to be seen. Lars looked up at where the White Fang had been. He didn't like the White Fang, but he disliked killing even more. He sighed before turning around and flying back to where he could sense his brother's Ki.

Yang wasn't doing very good at the moment. She was currently picking herself up off the ground after being thrown through another building. She was beaten up and hurting, but most of all she was confused. A few minutes ago they were evenly matched, but now he was throwing her around like a ragdoll. It all started happening when a strange purple energy started swirling around him and she hadn't been mistaken about his eyes flashing red.

"Jeez what a jerk. Throwing me through a building like that. And he ruined my favorite outfit." Yang said as she dusted off her ripped up jacket. She flew back into the sky to face Ryder once again, stopping when she heard her name being called.

"Yang!" She turned around to see Lars flying over to her. "How are you holding up?" He asked when he got closer to her.

"I'm managing. I don't know how, but Ryder has gotten a lot stronger." Lars looked over at Ryder and saw he now had glowing red eyes and a purple aura. He could also sense a sinister energy coming from within. He had felt this energy before but he couldn't remember where. At that moment Ryu arrived, stopping on the other side of Lars.

"Is it just me or has Ryder's power increased?" Lars nodded his head at his brother, confirming what he had asked. "Well no matter." He flew towards Ryder. "Hey you! Your two henchmen are gone. Unless you want to join them I'd suggest you give up now." Ryder simply grinned at Ryu.

"You really think this is over? No, it's only just beginning." Ryder began laughing and his eyes flashed.

Lars was about to say something when he suddenly sensed something. It was the same sinister energy coming from Ryder except this time it was coming from above them, _high _above them.. Lars looked up and what he saw caused him to widen his eyes in shock.

"Wh...what the. What's going on?" Yang looked over at Lars to see him looking up into the sky.

"You OK Lars?" She asked, her only answer being him pointing his finger upwards. She followed his finger and she too widened her eyes in shock.

"What are you two gawking at?" Ryu asked them.

"Ryu, look up." Lars said still in shock. Ryu did as his brother said and looked up. He didn't see it at first, but after looking more closely, he could see it. "No. H...how is that possible?" He managed to ask through his shock.

Above them they could see the night sky and in the night sky they could see the shattered moon. What shocked them was how the moon looked. It too had a purple aura around it and if one looked close enough they could see the pieces of the moon rejoining it. They watched as every little piece reconnected with the moon and when it was completely reformed, it cast a bright light down onto the planet.

Lars and Yang looked away from it when Ryder started laughing again, but Ryu was transfixed on it. He couldn't tear his gaze away from the giant pale orb that lit up the night sky. He could hear, deep down inside himself, a thumping noise. Something was calling to him. It was big and powerful and it wanted out. He let out an animalistic growl that Lars caught on to.

"Ryu, you OK? Hey snap out of it." Lars floated over to his older brother but was suddenly pushed back by said brother. "What the... Hey what's gotten into you?" Lars was starting to worry about his brother. He had never seen him like this and it was a little unnerving to hear him growling like he was.

"What's wrong with Ryu?" Yang asked.

"I don't know. One minute he's fine and the next he's like this." What was going on? Ryu was acting strange and his power level seemed to be rising, but why? Did it have something to do with the moon? Before Lars could voice his question, Ryu gave off an animalistic roar. Not a growl or a howl, but a roar.

Right before their very eyes, Ryu began to change. He started growing taller and his muscles started to bulge to the point that his outfit started ripping off. His eyes had completely changed to red and he started growing a snout as well as fur all over his body. He continued to roar as his body continued to change until he towered over everyone. Lars looked up at his fully changed older brother with a shocked expression. He looked like a giant monkey with red eyes. Without warning Ryu roared again, sending everyone around him flying back and toppling over buildings.

"Wh...what the hell? Why is your brother a giant monkey?" Yang asked Lars.

"I...I don't know. What are we going to do? I don't know if we can take on both Ryder _and _Ryu." Lars watched as his brother pounded on his chest and roared.

"We have to try. At least until help arrives. I've already sent out a distress beacon. My friends will be here soon with everyone else." Lars nodded his head before looking at his brother again.

"Ok. You continue to fight Ryder. I'll go see if I can calm Ryu down before he does any real damage." Lars said as he began flying to his brother.

"Right." Yang said, looking at Ryder whose eyes flashed again. "Let's just hope help arrives in time."

And that is the end of chapter 4! Based on the title, how many of you thought Ryu was gonna go SSJ? Nope not yet. Also, an OC will be making their first appearance in the story in the next chapter. Oohhh I wonder who it will be. Seriously I kinda had trouble deciding who was gonna go first out of the OCs who have made it so far. Regarding OCs I am still accepting them so don't be afraid to submit one or four. Anyways hope you all enjoyed this chapter. Until next time. See ya!

7. Ryu's Transformation Part 2: New Arrival

Disclaimer- I do not own RWBY, Dragon Ball Z, GT, Super, or Xenoverse.

Hello everybody and welcome to the 5th chapter! Now before we get started, I'm going to answer some comments and questions people have.

Saiya Guy- Sorry man, but I've already got a different plan for your guys. You'll see and I promise you'll like it. I also already have a plan for how they'll learn what they truly are.

Lantern Corpes- As good of an idea as that is, I can't do that. Firstly because it's a RWBY and DragonBall crossover and not a RWBY, DragonBall, DC crossover. Secondly because I have NO knowledge on the Lantern Corpes or on any of the Lanterns. If you want your characters in the story that's fine, but you'll have to modify them to better fit in the story. Though I do like the idea of Demigra's magic affecting multiple Universes. If I can come up with a good story line and if enough people like the idea, you may very well see your Lantern characters in the story.

I have also gotten questions about pairings. Yes there are pairings, but I won't put up wo is paired with who. The following characters are taken however.

Yang, Velvet, Phyrra, Jaune, Ruby, Cinder, Winter, and Blake

Regarding an OCs attacks, if you want to create your own attack than please by all means do so. It'll give your characters more of a touch from you.

And finally, there has been a new Evil OC added to the story.

Thesaiyan21- Iceberg

On with the story!

Chapter 5

Lars was currently doing his best not to get struck by his transformed brothers attacks. For the past five minutes he had been trying to calm him down, but had failed to do so. Now he was just trying to not get hit which was becoming more difficult due to Ryu's increased power level and size.

'Damn it. What am I going to do?' Lars thought as he dodged his brother's swipes. 'I don't want to fight Ryu, but I can't let him get to the city either. What do I...' His thoughts were cut off when he was hit by a downward swipe from Ryu which caused Lars to rocket towards the ground. He wasn't able to stop himself in time and ended up crashing, tearing up the street as he skidded across the ground. When he finally stopped, he found himself inside of a building with the wall in front of him completely destroyed. Lars picked himself up out of the rubble and shook his head before looking up only to widen his eyes when he saw a beam of blue energy fired from Ryu's mouth coming at him.

"Oh crap." Lars took off to the other side of the building, blasting the wall down and escaping just in time. The attack hit where he had been standing, completely destroying the buidling in the process. He landed on the roof of another building and watched as Ryu roared and pounded on his chest. "Guess I don't have any other choice. I have to stop him before he causes serious damage." With that, Lars flew into the air to face his brother.

Yang and Ryder were exchanging blows, Yang doing her best to keep up, but it was painfully obvious that the enhanced Ryder was stronger. She put her arms up to block a kick only to receive a hard punch to her gut. Ryder balled his fists and slammed them into the back of a hunched over Yang, sending her flying to the ground.

"It's over." Ryder pointed his hand at the spot where Yang landed and fired an orange beam at her. The attack exploded on impact, destroying to area around it and creating a huge smoke screen. Ryder smirked as he looked down at the area he just destroyed, but frowned when a firey aura exploded from the center of a crater. The smoke cleared to show Yang standing with her aura ablaze. Her jacket was now completely destroyed as was the banner on the back of her belt. She also had blood running down the left side of her face.

"Not yet." Yang vanished beside him and kicked him in the back, sending him flying only to vanish behind him again and kick him upwards. She finished her attack by vanishing above him and slamming her fists in Ryder's face, sending him spiraling to the ground. Unlike Yang, however, Ryder was able to stop himself before he hit the ground. He looked up just in time to see Yang flying down at him with a fire encased fist. He dodged to the right at the last moment and watched her zip by him.

Yang flipped and pushed off the ground, surprising Ryder, and slammed her fire encased fist into his stomach. The punch caused an explosion to occure at the point of impact, which was Ryder's stomach, and sent him flying back with a huge burn mark on his midsection.

"Damn." She cursed when he stopped himself. She didn't expect that attack to finish him, but she had expected it to do _something_. 'It's no good. Even with my semblance activated, it's still not enough to beat him. Guess I'll have to use _that_ technique.'

"Whatever your planning won't work. I've simply become to strong for you." He had a big grin on his face and his eyes flashed. "I'll give you one more chance, join us or die."

Yang closed her eyes for a moment and took a deep breath before exhaling. Ryder looked on with a smirk believing she would except his offer. She exhaled again before opening her eyes.

"My answer is the same as it was before. I'd never join up with a bunch of monsters like you." Ryder narrowed his eyes at Yang before sighing.

"Then it's time I ended this." He put his hands together with his palms facing Yang and before long a huge orange ball formed in his hands. "There's no way you'll be able survive this attack. Begone!" Ryder fired his Ki attack at Yang who gritted her teeth

'I've gotta do it. There's no other choice.' Yang thought as the attack reached its target.

The Ki blast hit and Ryder began laughing in victory. He knew that attack would finish her off. Now all he had to do was take care of the other two and...

'What?' Ryder thought when he saw his attack come to a stop. 'What's going on?'

"Kaio-ken!" A voice rang out. It was followed by a huge explosion of red aura that was coming from behind his attack that was currently flying back at him.

"What!" Ryder flew up, just barely dodging his deflected attack. He looked up and got a knee to the face by a red Yang that sent him flying back. He didn't even have a chance to stop himself because Yang was above him, punching him in the stomach. The attack sent him rocketing to the ground, his body creating a huge crater upon impact.

"What just happened?" Ryder asked himself as he got out of the crater, wiping his mouth of blood.

He didn't even have a chance to recover before Yang was on him again. She kicked him across the head then punched him in the stomach before ending it with a knee to the face.

"What's wrong Ryder? That purple energy of yours running out or can you just not keep up with me?" Yang smirked, causing Ryder to grit his teeth angrily.

"What the hell is this? How did you gain so much power?" Ryder demanded through clenched teeth.

"That doesn't really matter. Because soon your going to be finished." Yang's Kaio-ken aura flared as she powered up. "_Now_ it's time to end this."

(Break)

Lars was a complete mess. His GI was ripped up and he had cuts and bruises littering his body and his breathing was heavy. He was currently hiding behind some rubble with Ryu roaring as he looked for him.

'This isn't good. I don't know how much longer I'm going to last. I have to think of a plan.' Lars racked his brain for an idea, _any _idea. 'Think damn it think! What can I do?' His eyes wandered up to the moon and realized his answer was right in front of him. "Of course. This whole thing started because of the moon being reformed. If I can..." He was cut off due to Ryu slamming his foot down on the area he was in, causing Lars to retreat. He dodged around Ryu's hands before flying in to punch him. His punch made Ryu tumble over and gave Lars enough time to form a plan.

"If I can find a way to sever the connection between him and the moon, everything should go back to normal. At least I hope." Lars was so busy forming a plan that he didn't see Ryu's fist until it was to late. The attack hit Lars at full force causing him to go flying through the few remaining buildings that were still standing. That caused him to lose momentum and to slow himself down, but right as he stopped himself, Ryu was already attacking again. He brought his fist down on Lars who held his arms up to block it. He managed to forcefully stop his attack, but was hit again by Ryu's other fist.

Lars laid amongst the rubble, unable to move anymore. He had nothing left. He was running on fumes now. He watched his Great Ape brother stomp towards him with glowing red eys. This was it. He just couldn't move anymore. Ryu opened his mouth and a blue orb of energy formed. Lars looked at his older brother and smiled.

"Sorry Ryu. I tried, but your just way to strong like this. Just please, if everything goes back to normal, please don't blame yourself. Because I don't." Those were Lars' last words before Ryu fired his attack. He closed his eyes, remembering all the fun times he had with his family, all the times he and Ryu got in trouble, and all the times Ryu protected him. 'At least I get to see Mom and Dad again.' The attack struck it's target, completely destroying everything in the area. Ryu roared and pounded his chest in victory. Or at least he would've if something hadn't have caught his eye. He looked up and there floating in the air was a boy around his age.

He was lightly tanned and stood at 6'1 with dark eyes and grayish black hair that was wild and spiky in the front but short in the back. He wore blue and grey armor that looked very similar to the militaries, except his didn't have the shoulder pads like most nor did his have a front guard on the bottom half. What was more surprising was the person he was supporting, it being none other than Lars.

"Good thing I made it in time" He said before descending to the ground.

"Who are you?" Lars leaned against a broken down wall as the man flet around in a pouch.

"The names Cress Lettu. Here eat this." He handed Lars a green bean. Lars looked at it curiously.

"What is it?"

"It's a Senzu Bean now eat it." Lars took the bean and did what he was told.

"Whoa." He was surprised. The moment he swallowed the crunchy bean his energy instantly restored and his wounds were healed. A lot like the Rejuvinators they had.

"Alright you sit here. I'll take care of this guy." Cress said, but stopped when Lars spoke up.

"No I'm coming to help. He's my brother." Lars flew up beside him. "Besides I've got a plan to turn him back to normal." Ryu got their attention by hurling a piece of building at them.

"Well your gonna have to tell me while fighting because here he comes." Ryu was now flying at them. Lars and the new fighter powered up and flew to meet the Great Ape Ryu for one final battle.

I apologize that this took longer than expected. I honestly thought I would be done by noon today. Anyways, there will be a poll on deciding two things. Firstly, do you guys want longer chapters? The second thing is an idea I got from Lantern Corpes wanting his Lantern OCs to be presented in the story. What do you guys think about a side story about Demigra's magic affecting multiple Universes? Like the Narutoverse, Bleachverse, and One Pieceverse. Tell me what you guys think in the polls. Until next time. See ya!

8. Regarding DC Joining RWBY Xenoverse

Hello everyone. Sorry but this is not a chapter.

I've gotten a few requests for DC to join the story. I like the idea as well, but I'm sorry. DC will not join the MAIN story. The main story is RWBY and DragonBall, hence the name RWBY Xenoverse. However, if you guys want Demigra's magic to affect multiple Universes, this includes DC, Marvel, Naruto, One Piece, Bleach, Ect., then check out the polls that are on my profile. If enough people want this then I will make a SIDE story about characters from RWBY Xenoverse splitting off and going to these different Universes to help stop Demigra's magic, but that won't be until later in the story. Mainly because I want to get as many characters introduced as possible, but I would also have to research the DC Universe, Marvel Universe, Bleach, ect. So that I don't make mistakes in the story. Like I said I enjoy this idea and would enjoy making the story as well

Also, OCs are still being accepted for this story so please send me yours so they can make an appearance.

Anyways, I hope you all have a good night. Until next time. See ya!
